EGYPT, UNDER GUNS OF BRITISH WARSHIP, PAYS BRITAIN HUGE INDEMNITY FOR STACK MURDER

Defies Bishop; Stages Dancing In Church

NEW YORK, November 24.—(By the Associated Press)—In defiance of Bishop Manning of the Protestant Episcopal Church of New York, dancing has been resumed at St. Mark's in the Bowery. A ritual service was held yesterday with American Indians in war path regalia, dancing, singing and praying while the organ played like a tom-tom.

Last March after "Mass Music Services" by barefoot girls and "aboriginal rites" Bishop Manning deprived the church of episcopal visitation and administration and St. Mark's discontinued its unique services.

After the service yesterday the Rev. Dr. William Norman Guthrie, rector of the church, said that he had no intention from Bishop Manning that he disapproved of the Indian program. He stated however, that even had Bishop Manning objected "the program would have had to go on as scheduled just the same."

"I am not attempting to start a controversy with Bishop Manning," the rector continued, "but this is my parish and I shall be guided by the dictates of my conscience."

"Aboriginal rites" were specifically cited by Bishop Manning in his letter of admonition last March.

"I am creating beauty," said Dr. Guthrie yesterday. "There are some who do not want to see beauty or to have beauty created. They are missing one of the most vital and fundamental parts of religion."

Blood Stains Found In The Sheatsley Home

CANTON, O., November 24.—(By the United Press)—Stains found in the Lutheran parsonage at Columbus by investigators probing the death of Mrs. Adie Sheatsley, "a undoubtedly rabbit blood," Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, husband of the furnace victim, said today.

"I had been hunting and cleaned several rabbits in the house," the pastor said. "I am sure that an analysis will show the stains to be rabbit blood."

The minister declared that in the face of all the new evidence that has been uncovered in the case he is still inclined to believe that his wife took her own life.

COLUMBUS, O., November 24.—(By the United Press)—New evidence pointing more directly than ever to the possibility of murder in the furnace mystery was announced today when Prosecutor John R. King, and detectives made a thorough search of the Lutheran parsonage.

Stains, which may be blood, were discovered near the furnace in which Mrs. Adie Sheatsley's charred body was found.

Other stains, a reddish brown in color, were found on an asbestos pipe above the furnace door through which Mrs. Sheatsley's body passed into the firebox.

Three finger prints were plainly discernible in the dust on another asbestos pipe.

King immediately ordered all of the marks and stains carved out and turned over to Charles Long, chemist, for analysis.

The half filled bottle of carbolic acid which was missing from the parsonage immediately after Mrs. Sheatsley's death had been returned to its place on the bath room shelf, King found in searching the house today.

"This is merely further proof of the absurdity of the theory that King Sheatsley committed suicide," King said.

King went to the parsonage with Dr. H. M. Brundage, pathologist, to experiment with guinea pigs in the furnace which a week ago today swallowed up the body of the pastor's wife.

The bodies of two pigs were burned and then taken to the pathologist's laboratory for microscopic examination.

King said that he found nothing else in the house to aid him in his investigation. Several other stains, one on the wood work in the kitchen and another on the corner of a rug, were removed and turned over to the chemist.

A pair of Rev. Sheatsley's trousers in an upstairs room were badly stained, but the prosecutor said he believed the

Dr. Grant resigned his pastorate last June because of ill health and had been living quietly on his at Bedford Village. At that time he asserted his trouble to have been in the rectory. He was described as anemic and run down.

The preacher also was said to have been dejected because Bishop Manning refused to consent to his marriage to Mrs. Rita De Acosta Lydig, a divorcee, on the ground of church law.

Dr. Grant is 64 years old. He resigned from his pastorate last June to live with his wife in Bedford Village. At that time he asserted his trouble to have been in the rectory. He was described as anemic and run down.

Capper Advises Congress To Cut Out Windjamming and Get Down to Business at Once

WASHINGTON, November 24.—(By the United Press)—"Cut out the wind jamming and hot-air and get down to business and we will not need an extra session of Congress," said the advice given by Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, head of the farm bloc as he came from a conference at the White House with President Coolidge.

The Kansas Senator has just been elected by a majority that will run over 300,000 which is about 30,000 more than the president received.

"Last election," said the senator as he pointed a finger toward the president's office, "indicates how the people feel about a man who says little but does things. What the average man in the west wants is economy and business-like administration. Congress needs to be crowded into getting its program through. It can be done at the short session if we all get together. We have had enough of speech making and talk."

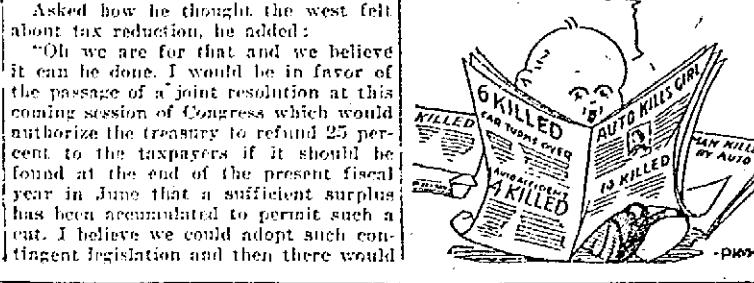

Asked how he thought the west felt about tax reduction, he added:

"Oh we are for that and we believe it can be done. I would be in favor of the passage of a joint resolution at this coming session of Congress which would authorize the treasury to refund 25 per cent to the taxpayers if it should be found at the end of the present fiscal year in June that a sufficient surplus had been accumulated to permit such a cut. I believe we could adopt such confident legislation and then there would be no need of an extra session or to wait until December for the tax cut."

Mr. Capper's thought is that Congress by authorizing the treasury to use his discretion after Congress had adjourned in March, can examine the revenues and returns received on March 15th next and be able by midsummer possibly to fulfill the wishes of congress with respect to a horizontal cut. ### "Prince Of Swindlers" Caught In Canada

CHICAGO, November 24.—(By the United Press)—Leo Koretz, alleged prince of swindlers will be returned immediately to Chicago from Halifax, N. S., for trial on charges of swindling wealthy residents of New York and Chicago out of sums variously estimated from $2,000,000 to $7,000,000, State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe announced today.

Koretz, who disappeared in December, was captured on the west-end of New Britain, two of Crowe's assistants, he waived extradition and agreed to return at once. Crowe was told in telegrams from his aides, Koretz wore a full bushy beard, his principal disguise. The man who gained the confidence of bankers, merchants, lawyers, and retired capitalists and then—according to their charges fleeced them out of millions in his great "Bayano River Trust of Panama," was found living in luxury in an estate near Halifax known as Pinchurst Lodge. He had been admitted to the most exclusive society of the Canadian city, Crowe's men reported.

Koretz was located by a "tip" from a Chicago traveler who met and became suspicious of the "retired millionaire." Koretz was known in Halifax. Although scores of similar "tips" had been run down without success, Crowe at once dispatched his two assistants to Canada. They identified him with ease, despite the fact he had grown a heavy beard, and he submitted to arrest without protest. The arrest was made at Koretz's home where he has been living since last March.

According to the complaints, Koretz had represented himself as a financier with large interests in Arkansas rice fields, and Panama oil wells. "Investors" were paid large dividends on "stock" in the rice fields and Koretz's fame spread throughout Chicago and New York. More investors gave him larger amounts and for a time received substantial returns.

Then it was that Koretz announced his great "Bayano River Trust of Panama." Large sums were needed to finance the project. His friends came to him with hundreds of thousands of dollars and attaches of the state's attorney office estimated the total amount at $5,000,000.

When Koretz's disappearance became known every American port was asked to watch for him but weeks passed into months and no definite word of his whereabouts was received. A reward of $10,000 was offered for his arrest.

When the check was accompanied by a brief note protesting that some of Britain's other demands delivered by Lord Allenby Saturday night as a result of the fatal attack upon the Sirdar on Wednesday were unjustifiable.

Accordingly British troops were ordered to occupy the customs houses at Alexandria as "a first measure."

The ultimatum delivered by Lord Allenby contained seven demands and threatened appropriate measures if they were not complied with within 24 hours. This time limit expired and a new note was presented demanding the payment of the indemnity by noon today.

One of Britain's supplementary demands was that 1,000 pounds sterling (nearly $5,000) be paid to a native policeman who was wounded while pursuing Sir Leo Stacks, assassin last Wednesday after the Sirdar had been fatally shot. The Egyptian government paid this sum today and Lord Allenby went to the hospital and gave the money to the policeman.

Czar of Vice Shot To Death In Chicago; Gang War On

CHICAGO, November 24.—(By the United Press)—The gang of gangland again ranted their defiance of law and the week-end raid included Eddie Tanel, potentate of the underworld of Cook county, and police anticipate the bloodiest war in the history of Chicago's underworld.

A week ago Dean O'Banion, leader of one gang, was shot to death. Since then, three known gangsters have met death in the latest being Tanel who was shot to death in his notorious Hawthorne Inn, at Cicero, suburb of Chicago. Tanel was known as the "Czar of Vice."

Yesterday two gun men of a rival gang shot him. But in dying, Tanel proved his courage by following his assailants to the street, shooting and perhaps fatally wounding one and slightly wounding the other.

The more seriously wounded assailant, Miles O'Donnell, one of five O'Donnell brothers who are said by police to head a powerful "beer syndicate," O'Donnell was shot down by Tanel two hundred feet from the Inn. Tanel collapsed near O'Donnell, but not satisfied with having shot his man, he dragged himself to within striking distance of O'Donnell and pawed at him with the revolver.

Police are hunting for James Doherty, noted gunman, who was with O'Donnell. The two had been drinking in the Hawthorne Inn for several hours, apparently awaiting for an opportunity to shoot Tanel.

CAIRO, EGYPT, November 24.—(By the Associated Press)—Lord Allenby, the British high commissioner, at noon today informed the Egyptian premier, Zaghlul Pasha, that instructions had been given for British forces to occupy the Alexandria customs. This, he said, was the first measure to be taken in consequence of Egypt's non-acceptance of all the British demands following the assassination of Sir Leo Stacks, the Sirdar.

The indemnity of 500,000 pounds demanded by the British for the death of the Sirdar was paid by the Egyptian government at 11:35 o'clock this morning.

The payment was accompanied by a note protesting against the British demands for evacuation of the Sudan by Egyptian troops and for the withdrawal of all opposition to the wishes of the British government concerning the protection of foreign interests in Egypt, which demands the note characterized as unjustifiable.

CAIRO, EGYPT, November 24.—(By the United Press)—Payment of the sum (nearly $2,500,000) which severely taxed the Egyptian treasury, was made under the guns of a British warship, the Rainbow, which arrived at Alexandria this morning.

Accordingly British troops were ordered to occupy the customs houses at Alexandria as "a first measure."

Portsmouth will be hostess to the members of the Ohio Newspaper Women's Association when they meet for their convention in 1925, according to an announcement made at the final incident to the convention this year. Yesterday the fifty members of the association, who had remained for the final session, passed for a moment beside the

GEORGE OAKES HIT BY AUTO; SUFFERS FRACTURED SKULL

George Oakes, 39, married, 1711 Seventh street, well known for many years as a public service company, is in a serious condition from a fractured skull and multiple injuries, the result of being knocked down and run over by an automobile on Eighth street just west of Brown about 6 o'clock Sunday evening.

The machine, a Ford touring car, was driven by Roy Dutiel, who is employed in his father's grocery, Ohio avenue, New Boston. Dutiel stopped immediately and after the injured man was removed to the hospital went to the sheriff's office and reported the accident. Later and after giving his version of the accident was released, no complaint having been filed against him by relatives of Mr. Oakes.

The skull fracture is considered dangerous, a small piece of the skull being pressed against the brain. At the hospital an operation was performed to relieve the pressure. The fracture is to the left of the top of the head. In addition Mr. Oakes sustained a deep cut across his chin which was laid wide open for several inches. He also suffered a deep cut over his left eye, badly cut lips and bruises about the face, hands and legs.

Was Enroute Home
Mr. Oakes had taken his Chevrolet machine to the Glocker garage and from there went to the office of the Portsmouth Public Service Company. He was enroute home from the office when the accident occurred. Relatives are of the opinion that he came down the alley just east of the former Portsmouth-Paige garage and was crossing the street, almost opposite the alley when he was struck, within 100 yards of his own home and the home of his mother, Mrs. John A. Oakes, 1725 Eighth street.

According to the driver of the machine he was going east on Eighth street at a moderate rate of speed and was driving in the middle of the street, to go around a car, when he says Mr. Oakes stepped directly into the path of his machine. Dutiel says that the left front wheel of his machine passed over the prostrate form and that the rear left wheel missed the man when he swerved sharply to the right and came to a stop. A crowd quickly gathered and one of the number called the Barker invalid car. Dr. W. A. Quinn was summoned and he met the injured man at the hospital. Up until this time identity of the injured man had not been established. Mr. Oakes was able to tell the physician his name and his home telephone number. His face was covered with blood and although several who gathered at the scene of the accident knew him well they failed to recognize him.

Mr. Oakes was placed on the operating table at once and it was two hours before Physicians Quinn, Bennett and Hunt completed the work of dressing the injuries.

Wife Notified
The first relatives knew of the accident was when George Emrick notified the wife from the hospital. Mrs. Oakes and the man's brothers, Arthur, Frank and Orin, were also notified and they were in attendance at his bedside throughout the night. This morning his condition was unchanged.

The mother who has been seriously ill was told of the serious accident shortly after her son was admitted to the hospital and she withstood the shock well, considering her condition.

Scioto County Farmer Makes Valuable Discovery

"I am certainly glad to have discovered the value of Pergen," said Mr. Chuck, a prominent Scioto County Farmer living near Wheelersburg. "It has proved a wonderful help to my wife."

"For months she was in a terribly run down condition. Her nerves were simply shot to pieces and everything she ate would make her sick."

"After every meal she would have attacks of gas and bloating and she would complain of pains in her back and side. Then her heart gave her lots of trouble. With the least exertion it would beat too fast and she would have shortness of breath."

"One of my friends, who knew of my wife's condition suggested that I get a bottle of Pergen for her. This was good advice, for every day from the time my wife started taking Pergen she seemed to improve. Now she is in better health than she has been in ten years and it is entirely due to Pergen. Her appetite is fine. Her nerves are strong. She sleeps sound at night and gets up in the morning feeling just fine. I know from her experience that Pergen is all it is claimed to be and I can truthfully recommend it."

CAUTION: The genuine Pergen is packed in a white and blue carton and may be obtained in Portsmouth only at Fisher & Strelch's Pharmacy, 1015 Broadway, New Boston. There is a Pergen store in every nearby town.

An Attitude that means profit to you

A good bank depends less on good laws than on good banking habits.

Good laws do not place personal interest in a bank's customers above a bank's interest in the size of their accounts. Yet that personal interest is good banking.

Good laws cannot make extra service as important as extra profit. But extra service is good banking.

So we say: "The men behind this bank, not the good laws, are your best guarantee of its safety. Their counsel and help is your own personal advantage in the business of getting ahead in life."

May we handle your account?

Chiropractic And Cranial Nerves

QUESTION — "I can understand your claim that each organ of the body works perfectly if it has normal nerve supply. But how can spinal adjustments help the eyes or ears and other parts supplied by the cranial nerves?"

ANSWER — You are evidently a close student of anatomy, therefore we give you a strictly technical answer which can be verified from standard anatomies. The cranial nerves, (except one) have, thru recurrent fibres and nerve plexuses, a connection with the spinal nerves emitting between the first four vertebrae of the spine. By analysis of the position of these four bones we can determine which may be affecting the ears, eyes, nose, face or scalp, causing headache, convulsions or disturbed or abnormal mental conditions.

The one exception referred to is the olfactory nerve. But since disturbed sense of smell is usually due to catarrhal inflammation of the membrane in which the olfactory filaments terminate, and since this membrane is supplied by fibers connected with the spinal nerves, we are able to get results in these cases also. Thus Adjustments can reach all classes of ailments.

Fire Destroys Two Homes In Ironton; Two Damaged

IRONTON, Nov. 24.—Two homes were burned to the ground and two others almost totally destroyed by fire at an early hour Sunday. Included in the loss was the greater part of the household goods of all four families, all of whom carried only partial insurance.

The fire started in the home of James Bridges on South Ninth street, between Vernon and Washington, and quickly spread to adjoining dwellings. The Bridges home was burned to the ground, as was the home of John Sayres, adjoining. T. S. Murphy's home and a house owned by Walter Sayre, located by James Stumbo, were badly damaged by the flames, water and smoke, and their loss will be heavy.

Boils!

Ouch!

S.S.S. will rid you of boils, pimples, blackheads and skin eruptions!

DON'T CLOSE your eyes to the warning which Nature gives when angry, painful boils appear on your neck, face or other parts of your body. Boils, pimples and so-called skin disorders are the result of an impoverished condition of the blood and are not to be trifled with.

It is nothing more than folly to expect to get absolute relief from the use of local treatments, such as ointments, salves, etc. Such remedies may afford temporary relief, but you want more than that; you want a remedy which will rid you forever of the torturing disorders. And the one remedy which has no equal is S.S.S.

S.S.S. stops boils and keeps them from coming. S.S.S. builds blood-purifying blood, makes fighting blood. It fights boils. It fights skin eruptions—pimples, blackheads, eczema! It always wins! S.S.S. has been known since 1892 as one of the greatest blood builders, blood cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced. There are no unproven theories about S.S.S., the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities. Begin taking S.S.S. today and clear your skin of those blood disorders.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

New Class of Student Nurses to Start Feb. 1

Another class of student nurses is to be organized at the Portsmouth Hospital, February 1st. Completion of the addition which more than doubles the capacity of the institution, makes it necessary to increase the number of nurses sufficiently to take care of the added work.

The opening of the new addition with new and more modern equipment throughout the hospital, makes the training school a more attractive proposition than heretofore.

Devotee the best of equipment and many changes due to reorganizing of the old part of the hospital, a class of student nurses that started in August is making fine headway.

A special instructor for the training school has been employed and in addition to the hours she gives to classes there are lectures in the hospital and considerable experience with patients.

With the added facilities a plan is to be worked out whereby student nurses from Portsmouth will not have to spend nine months in Cincinnati General Hospital, which is the case at present.

Young women who are thinking of taking up nursing, and who wish to obtain personal application at once to the superintendent, Mrs. Marion Dugan, who is anxious to obtain at least ten pupils by the date the class is to start.

Good Thing to Know about stopping a cold

At the first sniffle take a stiff dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, expel the congestion and avoid a cold

THE commonest afflictions of mankind are constipation and colds. Combined they indirectly cause the majority of untimely deaths. It is when constipated that you are most subject to colds, so keep the bowels open. Sneezing is almost always the first warning of a cold. Don't wait; don't hope that it will go away of itself. Take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, cleansing the intestines of accumulated poisons, bundle up warmly and the cold will be gone by morning. Colds cannot "run their course" when stopped at the outset. That spoonful of Syrup Pepsin may stop it.

A good laxative is a necessity in the home. Since Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, over 10 million bottles being sold annually, the majority of families must prefer it.

And rightly so, for in the 30 years it has been on the market it has relieved thousands of people of those ailments it was designed to remedy, such as constipation, biliousness, indigestion, flatulency, sour stomach, dyspepsia, bad breath, fevers and colds. It will relieve any disorder associated with constipation. It is the safest, most gentle intestinal treatment you can get. Mr. J. C. Bonney, 969 Main St., Biloxi, Miss., and

Mr. Walter Duminske, 797 Wheelock St., Detroit, Mich., are never without a bottle in their homes. They attribute their uniform good health to having it handy when needed. You will find it in every drug store. A dose costs about a cent.

There is no secret about the contents of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and you will find it stated on the package, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and pleasant aromatics, free from narcotics and opiates. It is just such a laxative as is ideally suited to families, safe for the young and effective for the old. Make up your mind to buy a bottle, and if for any reason whatever it does not come up to your expectations, your money will be refunded.

Free Sample Bottle Coupon

There are people who very rightly prefer to try a thing before they buy it. Let them clip this coupon, pin their name and address to it, and send it to the Syrup Pepsin Co., 518 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois, and a free sample bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will be sent them postpaid by mail. Do not include postage. It is free.

ms, coal-black and wearing gold ornaments in their lips, noses and ears; chattering like a monkey colony, clutching their entire worldly possessions, they swarmed below decks to remain, wedged like sweltering sardines, until the vessel chose to put to sea again. The Dutch mate, in the stomp of his great mouth, instilled their movements with none too delicate proofs of an iron bar. Irene Matheson, reclining in a long cane chair on the narrow first-class deck under a patched awning, raised her eyes from the book she had been reading. There was a wealth of pity in her soul for these helpless creatures, formed like men and women, yet forced together like beasts of the field. Suddenly she gasped and leaned forward. Something that the ship's officer had done sent a shudder through her slender frame. In dumb protest, she looked at the broad white back of a man who stood by the rail. She could not see his face, but she thought that his sun-burned neck was unusually red and that the big brown hands which gripped the rope barrier had tightened their hold. It was as if a chord of sympathy had passed between these two. The slim girl in the chair felt that the silent message her brown eyes had flashed into space had come to rest in a highly sensitive receiving station. The shoulders of the man she knew as Corrigan twitched. Her eyes widening with suppressed excitement, her tiny hands clutching at the sides of her chair, she saw him vault with the ease of an athlete on to the deck below. A half-dozen strides sufficed to cover the distance between him and the mate. She saw the iron bar descend pitilessly on the head of a native woman who had tried to secure a portion of her personal effects that had fallen as she staggered through that raping hole, and then—Corrigan's great fist shot out and the first mate fell heavily out and rolling into the scuppers. Finding like a fair spectator in a roomy arena, Mrs. Matheson clapped her hands.

The mate, crawling painfully to his feet, heard it and threw a malevolent glance in her direction. Swearing horribly, he reached out for the belaying-pin. Corrigan, who was bending over the injured woman, caught his eye. The fat fingers that gripped the little pin eased their fumbling and the little pin eased its fumbling and the little pin eased its fumbling. "I see," he said thickly. "You will also apologize to Mr. Vanoupe. He jerked his head toward the mate who kept on feeling at his face as if to make sure his chin were still where Nature had originally placed it. "Not on your life, my dear Irene," the skipper assured him, turning on his heel to indicate that the affair was finished. "That's my way. In French, where I come from, they call it Corrigan's way—and you can't beat it, Captain. I give you my word!" He dropped on one knee by the side of the native woman, and the skipper, with a look at the broad back that suggested that it presented an amiable which to him, at least, was absolutely insoluble, ordered the first mate off. He clapped down the butt of his pistol, leaving the injured woman and Corrigan the sole occupants of that portion of the ship, and went back to the bridge to bring the Haufah safely into the still waters of Lahaina.

Corrigan came to the first-class deck, slipping something into his pocket, and disappeared into the recesses of the corridor in search of a clean handkerchief. Irene Matheson sat like a statue in her cabin, her eyes fixed on the door of her cabin. The time that he had been whisking briskly off abruptly at sight of her. His face assumed that mask-like expression that had worn throughout the trip. Mrs. Matheson hesitated. The words forming themselves with an effort. "Hello!" He started as if something had struck him, as if the sound of a woman's voice jarred on his nerves.

up the bar, and Corrigan hit him again. The skipper, his eyes ablaze, confronted the master of the situation. "What does this mean?" he demanded in very good English. Corrigan, square-jawed and clean-shaven, rose to his full height. He stood like a colossus, his hands resting easily on his hips, between the fat mate holding his bruised jaw and the Dutch girl, the white man's handkerchief, knotted around her head, on which showed an ever-increasing patch of blood. "I regret having to interfere with the discipline of your ship, Captain Leungh," he said, "but to a human man the situation explains itself." The captain, broad and bearded, his white-topped cap cocked over one eye, his arms over-shoulder, like a giant, he, trumped his great chest until it resounded like a drum. "I'm captain here, Mr. —," he shouted. "Corrigan's my name," put in the other calmly. "Black or white, the hit a woman, when or where, the blood of murder etiquette are lost on me. I see you. However, as it appears I owe you an apology—I give it, but I give no guarantee not to repeat my action in a similar case of brutality." The skipper choked down his wrath. "I see," he said thickly. "You will also apologize to Mr. Vanoupe. He jerked his head toward the mate who kept on feeling at his face as if to make sure his chin were still where Nature had originally placed it. "Not on your life, my dear Irene," the skipper assured him, turning on his heel to indicate that the affair was finished. "That's my way. ## Certain-teed ROOFING and SHINGLES

"You wanted me to?" he stammered. "I've forgotten a lot of things in these weary years, Mrs. Matheson; but I sort of remembered when I was halfway through with it, that I was guilty of a breach of etiquette; I felt I was doing something that isn't done. I mean, I suppose I ought to have checked my primitive impulses until you had retired to your cabin."

man with the husband she was going back to. "The primitive woman in me called aloud for all that was primitive in man," she said simply, "and found it. I'm infinitely grateful to you, Mr. Corrigan." She held out a slim hand and Corrigan, stepping forward impetuously, took it in his brown paw. "Are you going ashore?" he inquired, letting his blue eyes rest for a moment on hers. "If you will take me," she replied, looking down.

He found her ten minutes later, talking to the brown girls on the fore-deck. As he approached them, he saw that a paper parasol had appeared from somewhere, and the scarcely perceptible breeze which blew from the shore brought to him the unmistakable scent of Eau de Cologne.

They crossed the gangway together on to the somewhat rickety landing-stage. He called back to a stooping figure on the ship's deck: "How long we got here?" "Twenty-four hours, at least, sir," was the reply.

They had got beyond a group of prosperous Chinese merchants when the first mate looked up. He shook his fist after them and swore vociferously. Presently he aimed a kick at a native hand, and chuckled heartily to himself. He surveyed an enormous watch with a rusted nickel case and a cracked dial on which the sun and moon played an important part. He stuffed it back in his pocket and looked anxiously up at the bridge. The skipper was engaged in earnest conversation with the Chinese supercargo.

Christmas Seals Make Their Appearance

Already mail leaving the Portsmouth post-office is showing a few of the little Christmas stickers that stand for the fight against tuberculosis. In another week scarcely a letter or a package here will be marked by one of these stamps.

Einar Holboell in Denmark on Christmas Eve, 1903, conceived the idea of using penny stickers at Christmas time to help tuberculous children. As a postal clerk in a small town, he saw countless stamps passing through his hands at this holiday season and appreciated the opportunity to help humanity. This big benevolent Nordic, a personification of Santa Claus in appearance, is a Santa Claus in reality also, for he has brought to the world the greatest of all gifts—health. In 1907, through the influence of an article by Jacob Riis in the Outlook Magazine, the idea was adopted by the United States. Last year over 400 million seals were sold in this country—22 million were sold in Ohio.

The sale of Christmas seals in Portsmouth and Scioto County is being promoted by the Exchange Club which managed the campaign so successfully last year.

There were 300,000 seals sold last year.

St. Paul Club On the Market

ST. PAUL, Nov. 24.—Local fandom was buzzing today over reports that the St. Paul baseball club was to be sold and that one of its owners might be Walter Johnson, veteran of the Washington American pitching staff.

Out of the maze of gossip one thing appeared certain, that the Saints would be under new management next season. Who the controlling interests would be remained a mystery, although J. W. Norton, president, announcing that the club was for sale, admitted he was jockeying with three groups.

One of them was said to be headed by several business men who were anxious to bring Johnson here as part owner and manager. Mr. Norton, who has owned the St. Paul club for 10 years, plans to give all his time to the real estate business.

Officials have learned that the wreck which recently occurred near Scioto Furnace when seven cars were derailed and badly damaged was due to a broken flange on one of the cars. The Chillicothe wrecking crew cleared up the wreckage.

PIGSKIN PRIMER.

If the team not in possession of the ball is declared off-side and a free-throw penalty is inflicted, what is the number of the next down? It was second down when the off-side play occurred.

When the team not in possession of the ball is penalized for being off-side, it causes all previous downs, and the ensuing down is the first with 10 yards to gain.

How do officials determine whether or not in shift plays the players did or did not come to a stop in their new positions?

This is a matter of judgment. The rule states in case of doubt the penalty should be enforced and the majority of officials interpret the play that way.

In making a try for a goal from placement, and the ball strikes an opposing player and bounces over the goal posts, how is it scored?

It is scored as a goal from field, the play is perfectly legal. The fact that it struck an opposing player is given no consideration.

What is the penalty if a player interferes with a member of the opposing team who has signaled for a fair catch? There is a penalty of 15 yards for such a violation, the offended side to have the fair catch whether the ball is caught or not.

Many men are demanding shaped shoes which they formerly wore, claiming they were more satisfactory than many of the present styles.

To meet this demand I bought the Baltimore and judging from the comments and the way they have been selling it surely was a ten strike—made of medium tan shade, double row of stitching around the sole and rubber heels, popularly priced at eight bucks.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

DOLLY WISE.—What causes liver spots and what will cure them. I have had little brown spots on my face for some time and people say that I have liver complaint or jaundice or something. Dolly I had the flu last year and I have never felt right well since. Dolly when people are weak like and tired most of the time is that a sign that they have never gotten over the influenza? Dolly how long does it take anyone to get over this awful disease. Dolly I have doctor and doctor and they don't seem to do me a bit of good, and they won't give me any satisfaction or tell me what is the matter with me. I get so discouraged and disgusted that I thought I would come to you for advice.

DOLLY WISE.—The brown spots you speak of may come from a torpid liver. Eating pineapples is recommended, for their juice has a beneficial effect upon the blood and skin. Further than this I cannot advise you, because you seem to need a thorough medical examination, rather than try to arrive home Wednesday to find the influenza is a treacherous disease, and hard to understand. Some people have it and feel pretty well in several weeks while others remain weak and miserable for an indefinite period. A great deal depends on how you take care of yourself. Some get up immediately and stay there until they feel fit of it, while others dilly dally around until the disease forces them to give up. Then they are a long time getting over it, and sometimes they develop T. B. and other things and never do get over it. If one doctor has failed to help you I would advise you to consult another one. Insist on him giving a thorough examination and telling you just what ails you. Then you will know how to take care of yourself.

Dear Dolly—I am a young married woman and have been living happily with my husband for two years, but there is trouble brewing. Dolly when I got married my parents gave me $2500 for a wedding present. I bought every article of furniture we have in our house and made a substantial payment on a home. I have also kept on working and now we are out of debt and in a position to enjoy life. But my husband's sister wants to spoil everything. She lives in Chicago and she wants us to come there and live with her. She is a widow and she says we can have a nice time there. My husband wants to go, but I don't, and that is where we disagree. Dolly we never did get along very well and if we were in the same house we would be quarrelling all the time. Do you blame me for not wanting to give up my happy home? We can get along very well here, so what is the use of making the change. Your advice will be appreciated.

WORRIED WIFE.—I think you are right in refusing to make your home with someone else. Even if you and your sister-in-law were congenial, you would be better off in your own home. Your husband will be happier if you give up work, and let the responsibility rest upon his shoulders. It is weakening to his character to help him too much. You have already done more than your share.

Dear Dolly—I wish you would tell me what is good for chapped lips. When the cold weather comes my troubles begin.

CRACKED LIPS.—Camphor ice is excellent for chapped lips. It is put up by different companies and any of it is good.

Dear Dolly—I am planning to be married soon and I would like for you to suggest some pretty color to be married in. I want to wear a suit. Also suggest what colors my bride's maids should wear.

BRIDE-TO-BE.—Wear the color that is most becoming to you. Various shades of brown and cranberry red are quite popular and I would suggest an ensemble in either shade. If a wedding is informal enough for suits, there should be only one maid and she should wear a suit or an ensemble costume. If however, you were a wedding dress, and you decide to have bridesmaids, it would be all right for them to wear any color or colors which you decide would be harmonious.

committee has been advancing a somewhat similar idea, his proposal being that at the end of each fiscal year the Treasury shall be authorized automatically to refund to the tax payers a certain percentage of income tax receipts depending upon the condition of the Treasury and the surplus piled up.
Senator Capper told the president while at the White House his recent selection of an agricultural commission was excellent and that he liked the way the commission had started on its work. The Kansas senator is hopeful that some recommendations may come from the commission in time to be shaped into legislation at the coming session of congress. He thinks something should be done at once to help the livestock industry which is depressed and that probably the commission can point the way in connection with a measure to regulate or coordinate the competitive marketing activities of the farmer.
Naturally Mr. Capper wants to see his colleague, Senator Curtis, chosen leader of the Senate if Senator Warren of Wyoming declines the position. Mr. Capper feels that the west should be recognized in the leadership in the Senate and that it would be not only "good politics" but common sense to put as capable a leader as Charles Curtis in the saddle to succeed the late Senator Lodge.

Cecil De Mille's Latest Picture, "Feet of Clay" at the Columbia Three Days Only Starting Today

Cecil B. DeMille's newest production for Paramount, "Feet of Clay," adapted from the popular magazine serial by Marguerite Turle, featuring Rod La Roche, Vera Reynolds, Victor Varconi, Richard Cortez, Julia Faye, Theodore Kosloff and Robert Edison, and which opens a three days' run at the Columbia today, is an absorbing, timely story, opening with a yachting party and beach carnival at Catalina, punctuated by a daring race of 20 beautiful girls on sailboards behind fast speed boats, and brought to a period by the maining of Rod La Roche, fighting with a shark to protect Vera Reynolds.
Despite the race of the wealthy Bertha Lansell, played by Julia Faye, who is very interested in married Harlan (La Roche), the latter is married on shipboard to Amy Leering. Vera Reynolds is Bertha's half sister, Robert Edison is Doctor Lansell, Bertha's husband.

Back in New York, six months in a Harlem flat finds Amy, then happily quite ready for a dance given by her half-sister. At the dance, Harlan has to be a wall flower. Bertha comes, playing Tony Cheering, a wealthy girl, dances with Vera's wife. At the end, Harlan, unable to endure it longer, takes the floor, dances and collapses. It develops that his foot has been so injured that death may come if he uses it within a year. It is now up to Amy Leering to support her husband. Theodore Kosloff, playing Hendrick, a model, employs her as model in his establishment.

Then, back and forth, we see the two dramatic forces. Harlan, helpless, knowing his wife needs recreation, has a dagger driven into his heart as Champagne appears with his invitations. Amy, on her part, comes home at lunch time to find Bertha Lansell deluging the invalid with the things that money can buy. And in the background is the husband.
The young couple come to an absolute impasse. Disaster impends. And then in a manner novel, dramatic, DeMille cuts the knot and brings the story to a striking end through the introduction of a one-act play by Bertha Marie Dix called "Across the Border."
"Feet of Clay," is Cecil B. DeMille's best production to date.

Death of Beloved Mrs. Harding Turned

Hundreds Stood Silently in Line to Pass Before Her Bier

Marion Into a City of Simple Mourning

(By Florence L. Smith)

Once more the eyes of the nation have been turned toward the little town of Marion; the town that has figured vitally in three episodes of American history within the last four years.

Marion, in 1920, was the center of political activity, for during the presidential campaign Warren G. Harding elected to conduct his fight from his own home, and the front porch of that plain dark green house became familiar to all the nation. Hundreds of thousands of Americans knew the streets of Marion, for scarcely a news reel but carried pictures of the Harding home.

Marion, the jubilant, gave way to Marion, the desolate, less than two years later, when the body of the beloved president was brought home to rest among the friends of his boyhood days. Marion, during those August days, was wrapped in sorrow. But it was a sorrow that would not give way to personal grief, for the little town must share its grief with the nation. So Marion became the dignified host to the silent throngs that filled the streets and waited for hours for one glimpse of the face of the man they loved as a friend.

And now for three days Marion has once more become the focal point for a nation's loving thought. When the word was flashed over the wires Friday morning that Florence Kling Harding had passed away, Marion prepared once more to welcome the sympathetic observances of the nation.

Marion for the past three days has been Marion mourning for her own, for very few visitors from the outside world reached the little city before Sunday night or Monday morning. The simplest mourning marked the shops, where flags were tied with black, and pictures of the woman, who was never too busy to be the friend to even the smallest newsmen, were displayed in simple ebony frames.

And Mrs. Harding would have had it so.

Newspaper women meeting in convention in Marion were told that Mrs. Harding would not have wanted their program changed in any respect because of her death. And so the little city went about its usual work in much the usual way, but with a certain deeper kindness and sweetness because of the memory of the woman who so loved her home town. In East Church street hundreds stood in line for hours to pass silently before her bier. And the crowd was made up of "just folks" mourning for a neighbor. Newsboys, ex-service men and others for whom she had expended her energies and her sympathy, freely waited under the gray skies for a chance to pay their last tribute of respect. And with the closing of the gate that bars entrance to the tomb, where the late president and the woman who was his constant helpmate rest, Marion will have become the shrine to which for generations loyal Americans will turn to rever the memory of an American home that could carry its integrity, its wholesomeness, and its bigness of spirit from the green frame house in Marion to the home of presidents in Washington.

Second Presbyterian Notes

We were happy to welcome to our pulpit Sunday morning, Dr. Henry M. Campbell, who gave up the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church of San Jose, California, about two years ago, to become special representative of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education. He bears the same relation to this board as our former beloved pastor, Dr. George P. Horst. As Dr. Horst is director of Men's Work for the Southwest District, so Dr. Campbell is director of Men's Work for the Pacific Coast District. This board is one of the most interesting and important of all our boards, and it is well that we should become better informed as to aims and purposes.

Thanksgiving Eve at prayer meeting! Could there be any better place to spend it? Even if you have not been in the habit of coming, will you not come Wednesday evening at 7:15 o'clock, and spend one hour with us in praise and prayer and Bible study? The Good Shepherd Chapter (John 10) will be the topic of our study, and all our singing will be hymns that center around that one great thought. And some fine special music is promised us, including "Savior, Like a Shepherd Lead Us," a children's chorus from the Junior Department of the Sunday school.

Next Lord's Day, in the morning, Dr. Phelps will follow last Sunday's sermon on the practical interpretation of the doctrine of the Trinity with another on the theme: "Why I Am a Trinitarian—II. Because I Believe in God As Brother." In the evening we are to have a special Girl Scout service, at which all the Girl Scouts of the city and their leaders will be our particular guests. There will be special music, and Dr. Phelps will preach a sermon especially for the Scouts.

THANKSGIVING services will be held in four different centers of the city. Our church, together with the First Baptist, First Christian and Trinity Methodist churches, belongs to the Central District. The service will be held at the First Christian church at 10 o'clock. The pastor of this church is to be the preacher, his theme being: "Let Every Thankful, God-Loving American Say So."

Our sick list this week includes: Mrs. Sarah Giam, 1907 Seaton Trail; Mrs. Henry Steig, 1526 Twelfth street; Mr. James Ellis, 931 Ninth street; Mr. Charles Frank, 1318 Ninth street; Mrs. W. B. Massie, Schirman Hospital.

A joint recital will be given in the church auditorium by Miss Irma Lindemeyer, soprano; Mr. Henri Schnabl, violinist, and Mr. Elmer Ende, organist, on Monday evening, December 1st, at 8:15 o'clock. This program is free to every one.

The Woman's Missionary Society will meet Tuesday, November 25th, Mrs. W. Smith, 415 Glover street, will be the hostess. Program as follows: Topic: "Southern Highlanders and Siam"; Devotional and Prayer Calendar; Group Leader, Mrs. Isabella Thomas; Assistant Hostesses, Mrs. J. S. Dunn, Mrs. Jacob Smith, Miss Ella Barber, Mrs. F. V. Knauss, Mrs. Phoebe Campbell, and Mrs. Katherine Williams; Praise service. The attention of the ladies is called to the fact that this will be the date for quarterly payments of dues.

All members of the Best Ever Class will kindly have their donations for the Thanksgiving basket at Mrs. Patton's house, Hutchins and Twenty-first streets, not later than 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, as Mrs. Patton is leaving town Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. A. I. Arnold, general secretary of the Ohio Sunday School Council of Religious Education, will be the speaker of the evening, at the banquet for Sunday School Workers, this (Monday) evening at 6 o'clock. He is a Sunday school enthusiast, and is authority on all questions pertaining to the Sunday school.

Court House

Wife Granted Divorce
Mervin Holtsinger, 425 Fifth street, was divorced by Judge Thomas following a hearing in Common Pleas court.

The decree was granted on the grounds of neglect and willful absence after the plaintiff testified that Holtsinger had abandoned her more than three years ago and had since failed and refused to support her and their minor child, 11 years old. Attorney George W. Sheppard appeared for plaintiff.

Sentenced To Reformatory
Arthur Cheek, a former preacher, was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the Mansfield reformatory by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Monday for nonsupport of his three minor children.

Cheek was before the court on the support indictment several months ago and on that occasion he was given another chance on his promise to go to work and support his family properly. The defendant insisted he had been unable to obtain work but his wife, who was in court, contended that he only made a feeble effort to secure employment. The family has been living at Seafordville and recent years of the children were taken in charge by the state board of charity.

Wife Files Answer
Answering the divorce suit of Floyd Thompson, Moore, Grace Moore, of South Webster, denies his charges and by way of cross petition filed through Attorney Chester D. Hitchcock, Moore of cruelty and neglect, claiming that he has beaten and otherwise abused her on various occasions and that he has failed and refused to support her. She asks that Moore's petition be dismissed and that she be granted the divorce with alimony.

Marion and Nation Join in Paying Final Tribute To Mrs. Harding

MARION, O., November 24.—(By the United Press)—With flags along the Main street at half mast and business houses closed, Marion and the nation joined in paying tribute this afternoon to Mrs. Florence Kilgus Harding.

In one window of every Marion business house was a picture of the widow of the late president, a black ribbon, and these words from Tennyson's "Crossing The Bar":

"Sunset and evening bell,
And after the dark,
And may there be no sadness of farewell
When I embark."

At 1:30 the bronze casket was taken from the F. J. Longshore home to Epworth M. E. Church, where Mrs. Harding had worshipped since her childhood days.

Honorary pall bearers were: Secretaries Weeks and Work, official representatives from President Coolidge's cabinet; Postmaster General S. New, former Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby, George B. Christian, the late president's secretary; D. H. Crissinger, Captain Adolphus Andrews of the Mayflower, Mrs. Harding's naval aide; Major A. M. Eladinger, President Harding's army aide; Hoke Donithen, L. H. Brush and Postmaster Henry A. Taylor, of Cleveland.

The simple funeral services got under way immediately upon arrival at the church. Scriptures read by Dr. Jesse Swank were taken from the fourth chapter of St. John and the fourth chapter of Thessalonians. Fifty members of the Republican Glee Club of Columbus—the organization that was dear to the head of the Hardings—sang Mrs. Harding's favorite song, "The End of a Perfect Day." Rev. George M. Landis, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, offered the prayer.

Following the services at the church the cortege was to move to the Marion cemetery where brief committal services were to be held as the casket was placed in the receiving vault beside that of her husband, Corporal Charles M. Carroll of the Ninth Infantry was to sound "Taps."

One of Mrs. Harding's last wishes was that her plans for a Thanksgiving dinner for the members of the Tenth Infantry detachment at the tomb of her husband be carried out. There will be one vacant chair at the dinner, on which will be a wreath in memory of the hostess.

the fire upon the guinea pigs in science, apparently intent upon the scientific parallel which he will have to draw in attempting to aid authorities solve one of the most perplexing mysteries in history.

Our next step is to put the vital organs of these pigs under the microscope along side similar specimens from Mrs. Sheatsley's body," the pathologist said.

"We may find important similarities and we may find nothing. It may be two weeks before we are ready to report to the prosecutor."

King said that if Dr. Brandage's report indicates Mrs. Sheatsley was dead before her body entered the furnace it will only be further support for his contention that she was murdered. The pastor maintains that his wife committed suicide by crawling into the furnace.

But since the report of the chemist that Mrs. Sheatsley must have been strangled, the pastor is virtually shut in his belief that she ended her own life.

100 Per Cent-- Christmas Advertising

If you could hold a telescope to the eyes of all the readers of the Times and direct their gaze to the Christmas goods that are on sale in your store---would you call that a master stroke of holiday advertising?

And if you could do that at a cost so low as not to be figured in proportion to the amount of sales that resulted---would you call that the high-water mark in holiday advertising value?

Well, you CAN get just that kind of Christmas advertising and what's more---you can get it at just that kind of price.

The Shop - O - Scope --- the name under which we are going to promote our "Christmas Gift Suggestions" columns in the Classified Section of the Times---was designed for exactly the type of advertiser who demands the maximum reader-attention and results from his holiday advertising.

We are going to direct the attention of all our readers to the Shop-O-Scope every single day from Thanksgiving to Christmas with illustrated publicity.

CORNELL AND PENNSY ELEVENS WILL FURNISH GRID CLASSIC ON THANKSGIVING DAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(By the Associated Press).—Pennsylvania's impressive football team, tied by Penn State, but undefeated, has one more bridge to cross.

Pennsylvania will entertain Cornell on Thursday. Victory for the Quakers will not, however, prove them the strongest team in the east, but will permit them to lead the list in games won and lost, due to a longer schedule than that attempted by Dartmouth.

Lafayette, twice conquered, dragged Lehigh down to the middle of the list last Saturday.

Near the bottom of a list of 24 leading colleges of the east are five institutions which have always been powerful contenders in gridiron warfare—Cornell, Pittsburgh, Harvard, Brown and Navy.

Most surprising in the presence near the top of little Williams, which defeated Cornell and lost one contest, that to Columbia.

Army and Navy, last of the football squads to settle long-standing feuds for this year, will meet next Saturday at Baltimore, producing one of the most colorful spectacles known to the gridiron game and ending the eastern football season. On the holiday Cornell meets Penn; Brown and Colgate will meet at Providence, West Virginia and Washington and Jefferson at Morgantown; Syracuse and Columbia at New York and Pitt and Penn State at Pittsburgh.

Besides the Army Navy duel Saturday, Notre Dame will meet Carnegie at Pittsburgh, Georgetown will oppose Fordham at New York and Boston college and Holycross will fight it out at Boston.

Ivan Parke Again

Shines in Saddle

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Ivan Parke is living up to the great reputation he established as an apprentice boy.

The leading jockey last season, Parke again threatens to carry off that much coveted turf honor. Many of the experts predicted that Parke's showing would suffer a decided slump when he lost his weight allowance.

This has not been true. Parke is riding in the greatest form of his career. When Earl Sande was injured, Parke lost his closest competitor for championship honors.

On the Maryland tracks this year he has been a consistent winner. The experts rate him 10 or more pounds better than any other rider on the Maryland courses.

Parke will probably make $50,000 this year, a rather tidy salary for a mere boy. The fact that the Whitney stable, for which Parke rides, has been below standard this year, simply adds to his lustre as a jockey.

The youngster has no trouble making weight. He likes plenty of work and says he intends to accept mounts at New Orleans this winter.

Ashland High And

Ironton Will Clash

Ironton football fans have a splendid treat offered them Turkey Day. The high school eleven clashes with the fast Ashland Hi warriors in the morning while in the afternoon the Tanks meet the Huntington Boosters.

The high school lads will make a bold attempt to give Ashland a setback from the singing defeat handed them last year as Ashland by the Tom Cats who are laying claim to the high school grid championship of Kentucky.

Tanks And Huntington

To Play In Ironton

The Ironton Tanks and the Huntington eleven will clash in Beechwood Park, Ironton, on Turkey Day. Several weeks ago when these teams faced each other the Tanks nosed out a 6 to 0 victory. The Huntington team has been considerably strengthened since then.

Novel Golf Marathon

APPLETON, Wis., Nov. 24.—Here's a new goal for the marathon golf fiend.

Two local stars, J. D. Steele, and H. L. Davis, recently played 93 holes of golf over seven different courses in seven different localities, covering a traveling distance of 203 miles, and all in one normal day.

The demon marathoners started from here at dawn for Oshkosh, played nine holes there, motored to Fond du Lac, for nine more, then to Elkhart Lake, up in match.

By now the sun was sinking in the west. A whizzing motor brought Steele and Davis back to their starting point, and in the gathering twilight they completed the last nine holes of their ordeal over their home course.

The average playing speed for a round was an hour and 10 minutes. Incidentally Davis beat his opponent by 10 strokes in medal play and was one up in match.

Landstrom's great work at third in the world series spells the passing of Heinie Groh, veteran star.

Few "Big Ten" players can toss a longer and more accurate forward pass than Cunningham of Ohio State.

No "Big Ten" kicker of this year compares with the work of Kipke of Michigan last fall.

State To Lose

Six Players

The Ohio State eleven will lose six players through graduation this year, but the freshmen are said to go, will more than fill their shoes, according to word from State. In March, State next year will have one halfback second to none.

Harley Trial Is On

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 24.—Hearing on a motion filed by J. J. Trainor, Chicago attorney for Charles "Chic" Harley, former western conference football star, to have expunged from the records of the Franklin county probate court money proceedings brought against Harley December 2, 1923, and which led to his being committed to the Dayton state hospital, started today before Judge H. Z. Hostwick.

Trainor's motion contended that the record should be cleared of the Harley proceedings for two reasons, that his client was not a resident of Ohio at the time and hence not subject to the jurisdiction of the court, and second that Harley was not examined by two physicians as required by Ohio law. Trainor further asserted that the former gridiron idol was not present at the hearing.

Dando To Strut His

Stuff On Paint Street

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 24.—Chinny is the name of the home town of "Shifty" Dando. Or rather, it will be after the first of the week when the Portsmouth scrapper will come here to take up his residence under terms of a new contract signed yesterday with "Dick" Seagston who will manage the former Portsmouth lightweight star.

Dando will join "Chinny" after a few days of time being and go into intensive training to prepare for the winter's ring campaign.

HEAVY TRADING CONTINUES ON STOCK MARKET

Irregular Prices Result From Conflict of Forces But Main Trend Upward

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Stock prices today were characterized by irregular trading, with several blocks of 1,000 to 5,000 shares changing hands in the first few minutes of trading. Heavy accumulation of the St. Paul issues sent both the common and the preferred to new highs, the latter gaining two points.

The first sale of U. S. Steel common was 3,000 shares at 116 1/2, up a point.

Real operators found it difficult to advance many of the popular industrial and railroad shares today without running into large offerings of stocks but prices fell and specialties, more than they were more successful in the low a score of which were lifted to new peak prices for the year. Sales approximated 2,000,000 shares.

The closing was irregular.

British demonstrations in the rails, tobacco, leather and industrial specialties were used as a screen for profit taking in other quarters. Rock Island and Meratt Sugar each fell back about two points and U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, American Can and St. Louis Southwestern a point or so. Stewart Warner advanced 3/4 points, Union Bag and Paper and Virginia Carolina Chemical preferred 2 1/2 each and Frisco common, Southern Pacific, Chicago North Western, Wash. A. Pittsburgh and West Virginia, Abilene Chemical and General Electric were among the score of issues to sell a point above Saturday's final quotations in the first half hour.

More than a dozen issues touched new 1924 highs including Texas Gulf Sulphur, Tobacco Products, North American Central Leather and Western Pacific preferred. Foreign exchanges opened heavy, demand sterling dropping 1 1/2 cents to $4.62 on selling presumably inspired by the Egyptian crisis.

The morning market presented a ragged appearance with erratic trading in the St. Paul, Seaboard Air Line and Tobacco issues being counteracted by the heavy selling of American Can, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, Rock Island and Inland Empire. Apart from these special movements, there was good buying in the sugar, rubber, shipping, oil, leather, U. S. Realty and Pierce Arrow issues. Approximately 25 separate stocks, 10 of them rails, attained new peak prices for the year during the forenoon. Early buying of the oils was stimulated by price advances of gasoline in New England and fuel oil along the Atlantic coast.

Call money renewed at 2 1/2 per cent.

Staggered Like A Drunken Man

But the dizziness soon disappeared when he tried "DRACO" and now popular policemen places full dependence in it. Tells how it built him up when he was run-down.
"My normal weight is 185 pounds," writes Officer John G. Haugth, 3163 1/2 Summit St., Toledo, Ohio, for years a member of the police force in that city. "But my system went bad on me and I lost 40 pounds. Most of my trouble was caused by my stomach. I could hardly eat anything without feeling bloated and uncomfortable and suffering from indigestion afterwards. I was also worried a lot with constipation and sometimes got so dizzy while on beat I staggered like a drunken man."

Officer John G. Haugth

"I got a sample of Draco and then bought some more and can say I'm a well man again. I can eat anything, feel fine and have already regained 20 pounds in weight. Draco is surely fine and I'm willing to recommend it to anyone."

When your stomach rebels and you suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, acidity, sourness, or cramps, take Draco. It tones up the tender nerves that have full control over every process of digestion and you are soon well. Draco is also fine to overcome the disorders which are the real cause of constipation, nervousness, headaches, dizziness, sluggish liver, stiff, aching joints and weak kidneys. Get some Draco today. Insist on it. All good druggists sell it and Stewart's Drug store says its best system tonic they've ever sold. —advertisement.

CHARLIE IS QUITE CHEERFUL

CHARLES M. SCHWAB, greatest of all the iron barons, is sure that good times are right ahead.

Charlie, as we all know, is something of an optimist, but he isn't at all disposed to run wild with predictions, at that. He sees, in the near future, the greatest era of prosperity the United States ever enjoyed and the whole country will be inspired by his hopefulness.

With his cheerfulness he mixes some sound philosophy. "When I am in Europe," he says, "men often say to me that 'America is great industrially, but she is not cultivated in arts, music and such refinements.' I tell them I am proud we are an industrial nation for thereby we contribute more to the comfort and happiness of mankind than all of the rest of the world besides."

"The true aristocrat of today is not the man of wealth, or authority, nor of position, the true aristocrat is he who does something for his fellowman. Whatever your position be let it be that of simple democracy, but do something for others."

A SORRY TIME AHEAD

A quartet of Huntington Republicans, of large means, have formed a company and are going to start a new morning paper, which they are shouting around will be "the organ of the Republican party."

Evidently from that they are not satisfied with the course of the present Republican paper.

Huntington newspaper needs would seem to be fully satisfied by two present dailies, which are exceptionally good, much better than can be found in the average town of fifty or sixty thousand.

Opposition, outgrowth of the disagreement of a coterie of politicians, with a paper because it fails to meet their measure of what a party advocate should be, has a slender and insecure basis to build upon. The character that makes it offensive to machine men is the very thing that gives it favor with the public.

The Huntington gentlemen may as well take notice right now that in endeavoring to operate "a party organ" they will find their fifty thousand dollars melting away like Thursday's snow drops before the shining sun. There is nothing that sinks money faster than a new paper, started to fill an alleged "long felt want," especially if that want be partisan and not public.

TWO OF THEM MEET

BUT yesterday a friend was asking how it would be possible to make air traffic across the sea possible, considering the impossibility of any plane being able to carry enough fuel for the trip, and transport either a large passenger list, or cargo at the same time.

It being our business to know it all we answered glibly that fueling of the plane would be the least of the difficulties of the development, since either huge buoys or fuel ships could be stationed at necessary point or points and the planes supplied from them.

This morning we read in the daily dispatches that the admiral of the Pacific fleet is planning to put this very idea into practice. He has even gone to the extent of devising a sort of grab hook by which the airships can be held stationary to a degree, and a siphon by which gasoline can be pumped up into their tanks.

A WRONGFUL LICKING

GREAT men do little things wrong and yet boast of the particular achievement.

Otto Kahn, millionaire New York banker, talking to college students, pointed to his own early life as an example illustrating how they could attain fortune and fame.

He told them he started his career as mail boy in one of the biggest banks in the city and so assiduously did he employ himself that he made the institution's record on stamp licking. So he got his start and from this ability to vibrate his tongue and exude vast quantities of saliva did he rise to be the active head of the institution, powerful promoter of railroads and so high in finance that it once tried to bend, if not to break Henry Ford.

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

I'VE ALWAYS THOUGHT PRETTY WELL OF THAT COUPLE, AND THIS THING YOU TELL ME DOESN'T LINE UP. THE CHANCES ARE THERE IS NO TRUTH WHATEVER IN THESE RUMORS.

NEW YORK DAY=BY=DAY

BY O. O. McINTIRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Lay late and then to breakfast with George Cohan and we fell to discussing animals and the possibility of them having souls. "There must be animals in heaven," said he, "or how do they get strings for their harps?"

And, too, we discussed the virtue of common sense and I held the greatest exponent of it I knew was Ed. Howe, of Kansas, albeit I do not always agree with his views, but he seems to me ever to be tremendously sincere.

Home and at my stint and then cast my accounts, finding a few pounds over my indebtedness for which the Lord be praised. My wife came to me with a frock, newly bought, and how pretty she looked, she being as fair, if not the fairest lady in the land.

To dinner with Nubrey Eads and his mother and there came Margalo Gilmore, Gertrude Lawrence, Mackay Morris, Dwight Fry and Lewis Calhern, and all cut up high-larks, yet it was the most innocent fun and foolery. So to bed.

He is a commanding figure with a shock of snow-white hair. His dress is that of the middle-aged dandy, conservative, save for a bright cravat or perhaps a lemon colored glove. People usually turn their heads as they pass him. My own impression was that he was a colossal giant of the business world. By chance I stumbled across his record. He has been three times imprisoned for selling worthless stock. He is barred in every hotel lobby as a confidence man.

Most confidence games are bred in the hotel lobby. The easy familiarity among strangers gives the scheming crook the chance to open conversation without the formality of introduction. And skilled ones will tell you that if they can hold any man's interest for a half hour they

We wonder though if any thought ever entered the mind of a single hopeful as to why Otto did not lick the envelope, instead of the noisome stamp, the proper way. But, of course, they didn't know much about monstrous microbes, deadly bacteria and frightful sanitary terrors when Otto was a kid.

HOME HAPPINESS
The little tasks that make the days. They are not much in others' sight. Yet they can find a hundred ways To yield me their sure delight.

I once thought of greater things, In cities far beyond the town, And my ambition soared on wings, To droop again and nestle down.

And seek at home its happiness, My heart is given all it asks; Still days, that prove their dearness, In all their little joyous tasks.
